Mission Statement

The Department of Music is dedicated to the advancement of the knowledge of music in its many forms. It does this through a three-part mission. First, it dedicates its energies and resources to excellence and leadership in the development of a select group of exceptionally talented undergraduate students majoring in music under the tutelage of an outstanding faculty dedicated to excellence. Second, for those students majoring in other areas, the department, through active, committed involvement to the College’s liberal learning program, increases awareness of music’s impact on society, past and present. Finally, the Department provides unparalleled opportunities for students, faculty, staff, and the community to be active participants in the making and/or attendance of musical performances of all types.

Background of the Department

The Department of Music has been a center for the study of music since 1916. Its graduates not only enjoy an excellent placement record, but also consistently attain leadership positions in the many and varied fields of musical endeavor.
The College of New Jersey is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music. The department offers various programs of musical study which are consistent with the high standards, ideals, and philosophy of this world-renowned organization.

The Department of Music, with its large faculty of artist teachers, offers all types of musical ensemble experience, excellent equipment, and library holdings. In addition, its varied curricula provide a wide selection of courses designed as professional preparation for work in a broad variety of music careers.

The College has a state-of-the-art music building that serves as the primary facility for concerts and recitals. This building contains a 300+ seat concert hall critically acclaimed for its aesthetic and acoustical properties, instrumental and choral rehearsal halls, computer synthesizer and keyboard laboratories, numerous classrooms, small ensemble suites, and practice rooms.

Music does not exist in a vacuum, nor does the musician. In order to ensure a well-rounded preparation and to enrich the comprehensive awareness of the musician, provisions are built into the programs for the music major to devote significant study to the liberal arts.

Music Major: Performance (MUSA)

Because of the number of concentration specializations that can be pursued in this major, only the freshman year is outlined below. Students should consult with their departmental adviser in planning the remainder of their academic program. These plans should take into account requirements for the major, liberal learning, and concentration specialization.

Music Major: Teacher Preparation (MUST)

1) A cumulative grade point average (GPA) of at least 2.75 is required for students to successfully complete the music teacher education program and be recommended for certification and licensure. To help assure that students at The College of New Jersey meet this requirement by graduation, the following procedures will be strictly followed: (1) admission to candidacy in the music education program following completion of 15 course units, and a 2.5 minimum GPA; (2) successful completion of the Sophomore Review; and (3) a 2.75 minimum GPA when applying for, and participating in, student teaching.
Exceptions involving admission into the student teaching experience will be considered on an individual basis and granted through approval of the chair of the department and the dean of education.

2) Students also must meet the state hygiene/physiology requirement, and pass the appropriate Praxis examination before the New Jersey State Department of Education will issue the appropriate certificate. Teacher-education candidates will receive a “certificate of eligibility with advanced standing” which requires a candidate to be provisionally certified for his or her first year of teaching. After one year of successful teaching, the candidate is eligible for a permanent certificate. The teacher candidate will also have to pay a fee during his or her first year of teaching.

3) A Mantoux, or tuberculosis test, is required by the state of all students prior to the first day of student teaching. This test can be obtained through The College of New Jersey Health Center.

4) Because of the number of concentration specializations that can be pursued in this major, only the first year of a student’s program of study is set out below. Students should consult with their departmental advisers as well as the department’s Undergraduate Music Student Handbook in planning the remainder of their academic program. These plans should take into account requirements for the major, liberal learning, professional courses, and state certification.

Music Minor

Students are encouraged to start the music minor in the second semester of the first year and must start no later than the sophomore year. Each student must consult with a Department of Music adviser and make application for the minor in the selection of the courses which will lead to an individualized minor in music.

- MUS: A liberal learning offering in music: 1 course unit
- One music history course: 1 course unit
- MUS 261/Musicianship I: 1 course unit
- MUS: Applied or Class Lessons (min. of two semesters of a one-credit lesson): .5 course unit
- MUS: Electives (reflecting student’s area of interest in music; determined through faculty advisement): 1.5 course units

Total: 5 course units
Additional Requirements
1. At least two course units must be 300- or 400-level courses.
2. No more than two course units may be taken as an independent study.
3. Upon successful testing, students may transfer up to two course units from other institutions.
4. Courses taken must be in consultation with a Department of Music adviser.

Requirements for All Music Majors:
Because the music faculty believes that two of the most vital aspects in the growth of any musician are the listening to and performing of music, various minimum requirements have been established to ensure that all music majors are exposed to these opportunities for growth. A partial outline of requirements follows; brochures containing detailed information are available to all students through the Department of Music’s Web page or by contacting the music office.

1. All students must audition on campus for entrance into the music program and when requesting a change in major applied area.
2. All music education and performance students must present a senior recital in their major performance area. Students register for applied recital during the semester of their recital performance.
3. All music majors must pass a keyboard proficiency test as a requirement for graduation. Music education students, including transfer students, will not be allowed to apply for MUS 490/Student Teaching and Senior Seminar until the keyboard proficiency is passed.
4. All music majors must pass the required Sophomore Review.
5. All music majors must attend a percentage of all recitals and designated music programs.
6. Upon the recommendation of the major applied instructor, the student will perform in the student recital series each year.
7. All performance and music education students must enroll in a large ensemble each semester in which they are registered as full-time students and successfully complete the course with a grade of C- or better. This requirement is waived only during the semester in which a music education student is student teaching. Part-time students (those taking fewer than three course units of study per semester) must petition the Academic/Performance Affairs Committee for a special exemption from Large Ensemble participation on a semester-by-semester basis.

Private Lessons
Music majors will be provided with no more than nine semesters of private applied lessons. Lessons beyond nine semesters will be fee based.

Program Entrance, Retention, and Exit Standards
Every major program at the College has set standards for allowing students to remain in that program, to transfer within the College from one program to another, and to graduate from a program. The following are the standards for music programs. Minimum grades are noted in parentheses:
1. Retention in the program is based on the following performance standards in these “critical content courses”: MUS 300–324/Private Applied Lessons (C–); MUS 261/Musicianship I (C–). MUS 400–424/Private Applied Lessons (B–).

2. Transfer into the program from another program within the College is based upon the following performance standards in these “foundation courses”: MUS 300–324/Private Applied Lessons (C–); MUS 261/Musicianship I (C–); MUS 400–424/Private Applied Lessons (B–).

3. Music majors may be put on probation and/or dismissed from the Department for any one, or a combination, of the following reasons: low GPA, failure to progress toward a degree, failure to progress on their applied instrument, and unacceptable or failing result on the Sophomore Review.

4. Graduation requires a GPA of 2.0 in courses for the program and earning a minimum grade of C– in the following courses: All courses counted toward the major except MUS 400–424 where the minimum retention standard is B– (see above).

Music Courses—Restrictions

Except for those music courses which have specific non-music major sections and performance ensembles, all music courses are restricted to music majors and minors only. A non-music student who enrolls in major courses will be required to drop those courses unless he or she has written permission from the chair of the Department.

Large Ensembles

MUS 130/College Choir .25 course unit
(every semester)
Prerequisites: An audition and ensemble vacancy
Open to all students through successful audition by the director. The ensemble rehearses and performs a variety of accompanied and unaccompanied, sacred and secular choral literature.

COURSES

MUS 099/Departmental Seminar 0 course unit
(annually—fall)
This course is a requirement for all freshmen and transfer students (internal and external) in the music department. This course provides students with an explanation of the College and the music department’s curriculum, the intermediate and capstone experiences of the major, and career opportunities for the degree programs. Departmental procedures, rules, and requirements are also discussed.

MUS 124/Diction I (Italian, Latin, German) .5 course unit
(with laboratory)
(annually—fall)
This course is designed to give the student a basic knowledge of lyric diction of the Italian, Latin, and German languages by learning the symbols and sounds of the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) and the rules that govern their use in those languages. Students will be expected to demonstrate their competency of the above-stated knowledge by transliterating, reading, and singing the texts of the standard art song literature of the three languages in class and on examinations.

MUS 125/Diction II (French and English) .5 course unit
(with laboratory)
(annually—spring)
Prerequisite: MUS 124
This course is designed to give the student a basic knowledge of the lyric diction of the French and English languages by learning the symbols and sounds of the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) and the rules that govern their use.

MUS 240/Basic Instrumental Conducting .5 course unit
(annually—spring)
Prerequisites: MUS 261, 262, 111, 112
Training relative to the basic physical elements of conducting and elementary score preparation. Emphasis is placed on beat patterns, cueing, and baton management. Emphasis placed on conductor etiquette, rehearsal management, score marking, and analysis.

MUS 245/History of Jazz 1 course unit
(every semester)
Same as AAS 240
A course designed to cultivate an understanding and feeling for jazz. Emphasis is on the nature and processes of jazz and its historical development in the United States. Analysis of the more influential soloists, groups, and composers through the use of recordings, cassettes, CDs, and videos. Listening skills are stressed.

MUS 251/Music of Our Diverse World .5 course unit
(annually—fall)
Introduces students to selected cultures and music from throughout the world, including ethnic and oral traditions of the United States. Includes, but not limited to, in-depth study and discussion of selected areas within the following musical cultures: African, African American, Eastern European, Indonesian, Japanese, Latin American/Ecuadorian, Native American, and South Indian. Major themes will be 1) musical elements present within music of diverse cultures, 2) the role of music within a society, 3) the role of the performer and the audience, 4) instruments, and 5) musical influences shared between cultures. Extensive listening and in-depth discussion will be a fundamental component of the course. Throughout the course, students will be continuously learning and refining skills that will allow them to critique, discuss, and appreciate music from diverse cultures.

MUS 260/Exploring Concert Music 1 course unit
(every semester)
The vast heritage of the symphony, concerto, piano literature, vocal repertoire, and chamber music is central to the cultural traditions of the Western world, and increasingly becomes a part of world culture. A wide spectrum of styles, representative composers, and works will be heard and discussed.

MUS 261/Musicianship I 1 course unit
(every semester)
Introduction to fundamentals of music theory, two-part species counterpoint, beginning four-part harmony and tonal analysis, utilizing tonic and dominant relationships and some Schenkerian analytical procedures, basic analysis of early Western and non-Western music, sight singing, using the movable Do system, and melodic, rhythmic, and harmonic dictation skills in the major key.

MUS 262/Musicianship II
(1 course unit)
(every semester)
Prerequisite: MUS 261
Continuation of counterpoint and harmony skills gained in Musicianship I, including all major and minor key triads and seventh chords, inversions of triads and seventh chords, embellishing 6/4 chords, modal borrowing, figured bass procedures, and all non-chord tones; piano style writing; harmonic and melodic analysis of music from the common practice period; formal analysis of bipartite, tripartite, rondo, theme and variation, and passacaglia forms; original composition projects in several of the foregoing forms and in various textures and instrumental styles. Ear training in sight singing and dictation will advance to the minor key.

MUS 263/Musicianship III
(1 course unit)
(every semester)
Prerequisite: MUS 262
Advanced study of chromatic chord construction and chord connection including enharmonic writing and an introduction to 20th-century techniques.

MUS 264/Musicianship IV
(1 course unit)
(every semester)
Prerequisite: MUS 263
Analytical and written skills in late 19th century “ultrachromatic” and transitional music to the 20th century, and 20th- and 21st-century music (including both concert and “pop” genres). Students will also compose short pieces in these various styles and be introduced to some advanced analytical techniques, such as melodic reduction and set theory. Study of extended musical forms, including those of sonata, sonata-rondo, concerto, and others, using repertoire from the late Romantic era through the present. Advanced ear training in chromatic and non-tonal music.

MUS 265/Music and the Stage
(1 course unit)
(every semester)
An examination of the interaction between the traditions of the theater, music, and dance. Spanning four centuries, this study ranges from the emergence of opera and ballet at the end of the Renaissance to the age of the music hall, the development of the Broadway musical, film, and television. Representative works will be examined, important composers and performers discussed, and a broad cross-section of styles and theatrical idioms considered.

MUS 280/Basic Choral Conducting
(.5 course unit)
(annually spring)
Prerequisites: MUS 261, 262, 111, 112
Training relative to the basic physical elements of conducting techniques involving simple, compound, and complex meters.

MUS 281/Keyboard Harmony I
(.5 course unit)
(annually—fall)
Keyboard application of diatonic and chromatic harmony. To be taken in conjunction with MUS 262.
MUS/290/Vocal Methods .5 course unit
(annually—fall)
This course is designed to provide the undergraduate student interested in vocal study with basic information concerning correct use of human anatomy and physiology in respiration, phonation, resonance, and articulation, and the practical applications of this information in his/her own study as well as its use in the classroom and private instruction.

MUS 325/Vocal Literature .5 course unit
(annually—fall)
Designed to provide the undergraduate student with a survey of the art song literature in the English, Italian, German, and French languages beginning in 1590 and continuing into the 20th century.

MUS 340/Intermediate Instrumental Conducting .5 course unit
(with laboratory)
(annually—fall)
Prerequisite: MUS 240
A continuation of concepts studied in Basic Instrumental Conducting (MUS 240). Primary emphasis is placed on more advanced score analysis. Rehearsal management and organization together with rehearsal technique is studied. Significant importance is given to more advanced baton technique including more complex patterns and subdivision.

MUS 345/Electronic Music Skills and Literature 1 course unit
(annually)
Acquaints both music majors and non-majors with all the fascinating facets of electronic music through two different means: 1) learning its history by listening to important electronic works by various seminal 20th-century composers; and 2) elementary composing of electronic pieces via basic training on the software sequencing program in the Department of Music’s computer laboratory. Previous music experience is not a requirement.

MUS 351/Music from 600 to 1750: Gregorian Chant to High Baroque 1 course unit
(annually—spring)
Prerequisite: MUS 251 or permission of instructor
An historical exploration of the roots of Western music from the Medieval Era (ca. 600–1400), through the Renaissance (ca. 1400–1600), and the Baroque era (ca. 1600–1750). Music studied will range from Medieval modal music, especially Gregorian Chant, early polyphonic works and secular vocal music, to Renaissance polyphony, madrigals, motets, and dance forms, the unique developments related to the rise of opera, as well as the instrumental and orchestral forms which characterize the music of the 17th century. The role of women composers and their contributions will also be explored. Running parallel to this historical survey will be attention paid to developments in Middle Eastern music, particularly that of the Byzantine Age, and the growth of the Eastern Orthodox Church. Musical developments in Asia, especially classical Hindu music, and the traditions of court music in China and Japan will also be discussed.

MUS 352/Guitar History and Literature .5 course unit
(occasionally)
Prerequisite: guitar major or permission of instructor
This course traces the history and literature of the guitar from Renaissance to the present day, taking into account contributions made by other fretted instruments such as the lute and vihuela. Students become familiar with the spectrum of available repertoire and how to develop appropriate performance practice. Projects include transcription of ancient music tablature to modern musical notation.

MUS 353/Music from 1750 to 1850: Early Classical through Mid-Romantic 1 course unit
(annually—fall)
Prerequisites: MUS 251 and MUS 351 or permission of instructor
An historical overview of musical development from the time of Haydn, Mozart, and Beethoven through that of Schumann, Chopin, Mendelssohn, and Berlioz, with a strong emphasis on style, structure, and musical genre. Other composers of both major and minor significance in this era will also be examined. In addition to these Western European figures, music of other countries and cultures contemporary to them will be studied as well. A strong music listening routine in class as well as outside assignments with special attention to the use of scores is of vital importance.

MUS 380/Intermediate Choral Conducting .5 course unit
(with laboratory)
(annually—fall)
Prerequisite: MUS 280
A continuation of concepts studied in Basic Choral Conducting (MUS 280). Further study of score analysis.

MUS 384/Music Theater 1 course unit
(annually—fall)
Practical experience in musical and technical aspects of producing music theater. Topics include: vocal performance, staging, acting, costuming, makeup, publicity, scenic design, lighting design, sound design, and orchestral accompaniment. Required of vocal students; elective for other interested students.

MUS 389/Marching Band Techniques 1 course unit
(annually—fall)
