In all 100-level language courses, students may not enroll in a course at a lower level once they have completed a more advanced-level course.

RUS 101/Russian for Beginners I

(fall)
An introduction to spoken and written Russian, emphasizing aural comprehension and speaking, accompanied by practice in reading and writing. Cultural audio-visual materials complement the textbook and emphasize the link between language and culture. Recitation/conversation hour is required in RUS 101. Students with four or more years of high school study in Russian will not receive credit for 101.

RUS 102/Russian for Beginners II

(spring)
Prerequisite: RUS 101 or permission of instructor
An introduction to spoken and written Russian, emphasizing aural comprehension and speaking, accompanied by practice in reading and writing. Cultural audio-visual materials complement the textbook and emphasize the link between language and culture. Recitation/conversation hour is required in RUS 102.

RUS 103/Russian for Beginners III

(fall)
Prerequisite: RUS 102 or permission of instructor
An introduction to spoken and written Russian, emphasizing aural comprehension and speaking, accompanied by practice in reading and writing. Cultural audio-visual materials complement the textbook and emphasize the link between language and culture. Recitation/conversation hour is required in RUS 103.

RUS 370/Topics in Russian

(occasionally)
Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor
Focuses on a different topic each semester.

RUS 391/Independent Study in Russian

(variable course units)
(every semester)
Study of a topic related to Russian language, culture, or literature chosen after consultation between student and instructor.