The Department of Special Education, Language, and Literacy equips students with knowledge and skills to permit entry to the teaching profession as a teacher of individuals with disabilities or a teacher of individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing.

The department also offers undergraduate courses in literacy, children’s literature, inclusion, and development of individuals with disabilities to teacher candidates in early childhood education, elementary education, technology education, music education, and secondary education.

The department offers a pre-requisite course of study in speech-language pathology for students interested in pursuing graduate study in speech-language pathology.

Five-Year Program Preparing Teachers of Individuals with Disabilities Culminating in a Masters Degree

The integrated Bachelor’s and Master of Arts in Teaching program in the Education of Individuals with Disabilities is designed for students who have completed high school and who have not yet earned a bachelor’s degree. The program is based on the School of Education’s Conceptual Framework for Creating Agents of Change and meets all of the standards of the Council of Exceptional Children and the Association of Childhood Education International, as well as the requirements of the State of New Jersey for licensure as a teacher of students with disabilities and teacher of elementary education.

Students will earn a bachelor’s degree without teacher certification at the end of their fourth year. The bachelor’s degree will be a dual major in a liberal arts and sciences major and special education. The course of study continues through the following academic year and culminates with the student’s earning a master’s degree in special education, NJ certification in special education and eligibility for NJ certification in elementary education. Students will need to meet all requirements of The College of New Jersey and the School of Education at the end of the fourth year (including an overal GPA of 3.0) in order to enroll in graduate courses in the fourth year. At the undergraduate level, the student must select one of the following liberal arts and sciences majors: art, English, mathematics, history, biology, Spanish, music, psychology, sociology, math/science/technology, art, music, and women and gender studies. (The department also offers a five-year dual certification program in the education of the deaf and hard of hearing and elementary education leading to a masters degree—see below.)

Requirements for the Teachers of Individuals with Disabilities Major

- Students must complete the liberal learning requirements as defined by The College of New Jersey. Students must complete a second major from the list provided above.
- Students must complete the following coursework at the undergraduate level: MST 202, MTT202, RAL 220, RAL 225, RAL 320, SLP 102, SPE 103, SPE 203, SPE 324, SPE 214, SPE 322, SPE 490.
- Students should complete MAT 105 or MAT 106 as part of their liberal learning requirements.
Special Education, Language, and Literacy

- Students must complete the following coursework at the graduate level in order to gain teacher certification: SPED 521, SPE 522, SPED 626, SPED 631 or SPED 609, SPED 647 or RDLG 571, SPED 648 or RDLG 579, EDUC 513, SPED 695, SPED 597, SPED 664. This includes a three-course specialty sequence. See Graduate Bulletin for further information.

Admission

1. The department reserves the right to limit enrollments in the program when necessary or desirable.
2. Formal admission to the program is granted at the end of sophomore year only to those students who have met the departmental requirements (including an overall GPA of 2.5) as well as those of the School of Education and of the College.
3. Departmental application forms must be filed by students desiring to transfer from other departments in the College. The application process includes completing an application and a written response to a designated topical question. Interviews of applicants are required. A minimum GPA of 2.75 is required to transfer into the program.
4. Proficiency level of all students admitted to the major will be continually assessed. Students not meeting acceptable proficiency levels in the areas of oral language, spelling, writing, reading, and mathematics skills may not be permitted to continue in the program. In addition, students must evidence satisfactory performance in Disposition Standards (*) as assessed in SPE 103, SLP 102, SPE 214 and SPE 324.
   (*) Habits of Thinking and Action Toward Learning, Teaching, Professional Conduct, Interpersonal Relationships, and Self Awareness.
5. Students transferring from another department should check the special education website (http://www.tcnj.edu/~educat/special/) for specific information pertaining to transfer students.

Academic Regulations

In compliance with the State of New Jersey’s regulations, a student must have a grade point average of 2.5 prior to enrolling in the pre-professional experience block of courses. At the completion of the fourth year of study, the student’s grade point average will be assessed to determine if the standard for graduate study, as part of the five-year program, at TCNJ, has been met (overall GPA of 3.0). Students must repeat a required department or program correlate course in which a grade of D or F has been received. Such a course may be repeated only once. Students unable to meet departmental criteria as noted will be dismissed from the department. Dismissal will be made at the end of the academic year.

Transfer Students

The program is sequential in nature and structured with courses offered only during certain semesters. Potential transfer students must realize that this may prolong their programs by as much as one year in some cases. Transfer students who are accepted into the program must schedule courses with advisement of the program coordinator.

Outside transfers must complete an admissions process through the College admissions office. Departmental review of external transfer applications occurs immediately subsequent to the date published by the College. Interview of applicants may be required. Students transferring from other schools should check the special education website for specific information pertaining to transfer students.
Program Entrance, Retention, and Exit Standards

Every major program at the College has set standards for allowing students to remain in that program, to transfer within the College from one program to another, and to graduate from a program. The following are the standards for the Teacher of Individuals with Disabilities program. Minimum grades are noted in parentheses.

- Retention in the program is based on the following academic performance standards in these “critical content courses”: SPE 103 (B–), SPE 203 (B–), SPE 214 (B–), RAL 220 (B–) and SPE 324 (B–). In addition, students must evidence satisfactory performance in Disposition Standards as measured in SPE 103, SLP 102, SPE 214, SPE 324, and RAL 320 (*).

  (*): Habits of Thinking and Action Toward Learning, Teaching, Professional Conduct, Interpersonal Relationships and Self Awareness.

- Transfer into the program from another program within The College is based upon the following performance standards in these “foundation” courses: WRI 102 if not exempted (B); FSP (B); SPE 103 (B).

- To graduate the student must earn a minimum grade of C in MAT 105 or MAT 106 (in order to take MTT 202) and a B- in RAL 320, SPE 322, and SPE 490.

- A student’s other course work will depend in part on his or her second major. See requirements for individual majors in the Schools of the Arts and Communications; Humanities and Social Sciences; Engineering; and Science.

- At the end of their 4th year, students must have a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 in the special education major for admission to graduate study at TCNJ.

Five-Year Dual Certification in the Education of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing and Elementary Education culminating in a Master’s Degree

The integrated bachelor’s and Master of Arts in Teaching degree in Education of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing/Elementary Education is designed for students who have completed high school and are first-time college students and for transfer students from community colleges or four-year programs who have not yet earned a bachelor’s degree. The program is based on the School of Education’s conceptual framework for preparing exemplary professionals and meets all of the standards of the Council on Education of the Deaf (CED), as well as the requirements of the State of New Jersey for licensure as a teacher of the deaf and hard of hearing, K–12, or as an elementary-level teacher. Having completed a dual major in a liberal arts and sciences area and in deaf education, students will earn a bachelor’s degree without teacher certification at the end of their fourth year. The course of study, however, continues through the following summer and academic year and culminates with the student’s earning a master’s degree. At this time, all applicable certifications are earned. Students will need to meet all requirements of The College of New Jersey and the School of Education at the end of the fourth year in order to be admitted to the fifth year. At the undergraduate level, the student must select one of the following liberal arts majors as a second major to complement the first major in education of the deaf and hard of hearing: art, English, mathematics, history, biology, Spanish, music, psychology, sociology, women and gender studies, or math/science/technology. Any student seeking additional endorsements or teaching certificates beyond what is specifically awarded by their academic program should contact the State of New Jersey Department of Education directly for details about any additional courses or standardized tests that may be required.

Academic Regulations

In compliance with the State of New Jersey’s regulations, a student must have a grade point average of 2.5 prior to enrolling in the junior-level course work in education. At the completion of the fourth year of study, the student’s grade point average will be assessed to determine if the standard for graduate study at TCNJ has been met. Students must repeat a required departmental course in which a grade of D or F has been received. Such a course may be repeated only once. Students unable to meet departmental criteria as noted will be dismissed from the department. Dismissal will be made at the end of the academic year.

Program Entrance, Retention, and Exit Standards

Every major program at the College has set standards for allowing students to remain in that program, to transfer within the College from one program to another, and to graduate from a program. The following are the standards for the five-year program in the education of the deaf or hard of hearing. Minimum grades are noted in parentheses.
Retention in the program is based on the following academic performance standards in these “critical content courses”: ASL 101 (B) and DHH 105 (B). In addition, students must evidence satisfactory performance in Disposition Standards as measured in SPE 103, SLP 102, RAL 220, DHH 350 and DHH 423. Also see requirements for individual majors in the Schools of the Arts and Communications; Humanities and Social Sciences; Engineering; and Science.

Transfer into the program from another program within the College is based upon the following performance standards in these “foundation courses”: WRI 102—if not exempted (B); FSP (B). Also see requirements for individual majors in the schools of the Arts and Communication; Humanities and Social Sciences; Engineering; and Science.

Undergraduate graduation requires a minimum grade of C in the following courses: ASL 102, ASL 103, DHH 350. The student must also earn a B in DHH 423. Also see requirements for individual majors in the schools of the Arts and Communication; Humanities and Social Sciences; Engineering; and Science.

At the end of their 4th year, students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 for admission to graduate study at TCNJ. Additionally, in order to take graduate level classes during the fourth year, students must have a GPA of 3.0.

Transfer Student Standards
The program is sequential in nature and structured with courses offered only during certain semesters. Potential students are advised that this may prolong their programs. Continued advisement is essential to timely program completion.

Deaf Studies Minor

The Deaf Studies Minor is open to all matriculated students who in their careers will want or need a professional orientation to deaf or hard-of-hearing individuals. The course of study introduces students to the communication problems and educational needs associated with deafness. The American Sign Language sequence of courses meets the college’s requirement for study of a second language.

Students must take the following 4 courses:
ASL 101/American Sign Language I (offered fall and spring semesters)
ASL 102/American Sign Language II (offered fall and spring semesters)
DHH 105/Programs and Services for Individuals who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing (offered spring semesters)
SLP 304/ Audiological Assessment and Management of Hearing Loss (offered fall semesters)

Students must choose one of the following courses to complete the minor:
DHH 303/Language Development in Individuals who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing (offered fall semester)
DFHH 530/Speech Development in Individuals who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing (offered spring semester)
DFHH 522/Assistive Listening Devices for Auditory Management of Deaf or Hard of Hearing Individuals (offered fall semester)
Communication Disorders Minor

The Communication Disorders Minor is open to all undergraduate matriculated students who would a background in communication disorders that may impact on students with disabilities as well as normally developing children. Prerequisite for the Communications Disorders Minor is a general cumulative average of 2.5. This standard must be maintained until graduation. Students may repeat only once any department course in which a grade of D or F has been received.

The Communication Disorders Minor also provides the prerequisites necessary to prepare students for graduate study in speech/language pathology or audiology. The program requires the student to complete five of six courses considered by the accrediting agency, the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA), as essential to students seeking admission to graduate programs in the field.
